The Falcon's Cry - it is time

An Introduction to Duality, Resonance and Ecstatic Trance

Resonance and duality are interactive, basic and universal principles, always active, and including each other. They weave through 'All' that is, through body, spirit and soul, through inner and outer reality, and they influence and shape all life on earth. All life grows through the never ending interaction of resonance and duality. Only the understanding of this 5th element, 'relation', is, what creates true harmonious patterns of being.

Shadow Integration is the path of the Hero through Duality:

Freeing and integrating the suppressed and hidden parts in our personal shadow (the gold and the dark), doesn't only give us access to greater authenticity, potential and life-energy. It also liberates the collective shadow from our projections and therefore effects the whole world.

Resonance as the path of the Goddess towards Wholeness:

Learning and practising a felt-sense receptivity, without judgement, will connect us to use the greater abilities within and allows us to resonate with 'All' that is. If we sense our given true place within the Great Creatrix we co-create wiser solutions that support all life on the whole planet.

Ecstatic Trance as resource and entrance to Greater Spaces:

Holding sacred body-positions, accompanied by a rhythmic sound, has been a divination tool for thousands of years.
